DOINGS AT OTTAWA

FAST ATLANTIC STEAM-BOAT LINE.

Conservative Campaign Literature Congesting the Mails
—G. T. P. Bill.

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).

Ottawa, Oct. 17.—R. L. Borden, Conservative leader, moved a resolution condemning the government for not providing a fast Atlantic steamship line. Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that the government was anxious to get the fast Atlantic line, but could not pay for it more than it was worth. The resolution was defeated by 53 votes to 29.

A complaint was made that owing to the abuse of the franking privileges in sending out Conservative campaign literature, the mail service was congested.

The second reading of the transcontinental railway bill was carried in the senate by 21 votes to 14. Senator Cox did not vote.

LOCAL.

—Calgary Herald.—E. B. Eddy, the big match maker, and his wife have returned from a visit to the north. Mr. Eddy thinks Northern Alberta is all right.

—Saturday night W. S. Weeks sold to Arch McDonald and A. York an interest each in Mullett's drug business, which he only purchased on Saturday morning. It is the intention of the new firm to form a joint stock company which will be known as the Edmonton Drug Company.

—Officers and members of Court Beaver House, A. O. F., are requested to attend the meeting to be held in their hall on Tuesday evening, 19th inst.

—Clergie's industries at Sault Ste. Marie, have been purchased by Maxim & Armstrong, the big gun manufacturers and builders of warships. The price is $35,000,000, of which $8,000,000 is in cash.

—Calgary is making a determined effort to retain both the training school and the police headquarters. The Herald blames the member for Alberta for endeavoring to have the police headquarters established at Edmonton.

—The last issue of the Fort Saskatchewan Reporter contains the following item: "The eastern mail driver was informed by the postmaster at Westwood when he called for his mail on Friday morning last that a little girl had found her father in his stable dead, with finger marks on his throat, arm scratched, shot in the mouth by a gun, his leg broken and otherwise disfigured as to look as if murder had been committed. It appears that two Guelphians had some trouble over some money matter which led to hot words and hence the finding of the body."

FROM OTTAWA.

Bulletin Correspondence.

An important amendment was made by the minister of militia on Thursday when introducing his supplementary estimates amounting to nearly one and a half million dollars. He discussed at some length the conditions of the military force of Canada, and showed that the expenditure on militia had increased in fair proportion to the general expenditure. At confederation the cost per head of population for militia purposes was 32 cents per year. For the years 1902, 1903, and 1904 the cost per head would be 60 cents. A large part of this increase was caused by the supplementary estimates which he then submitted, of which $1,300,000 was for the purchase of rifles and cannon and militia stores. At present there are only 40,000 rifles in the country, and the cannon were of obsolete patterns. The intention was to increase the number of rifles to at least one hundred thousand and to equip the artillery with modern cannon. The new rifles will be manufactured in Canada according to a special pattern and will be called the Ross rifle, from the name of the patentee. It was proposed to reorganize the militia force, having an enlisted number of 40,000 men, with 50,000 more available as reserves. Of the 40,000 enlisted, half would be drilled effectively each year. Besides the brigade camps, a centre camp would be formed, where special instruction would be given. Special attention would be paid to the improvement of rifle shooting amongst the population generally through the means of rifle associations. At present there are 20,000 members enrolled in the rifle associations of Canada. His proposition would not involve any increase in pay to the men, although he declared himself favorable to an increase if parliament would agree to the expense. The propositions of the minister seemed to be generally acceptable to the House, including members of the opposition.

The minister of finance gave the figures of revenue and expenditure for the year ending June 30th last, as follows:

Revenue on Consolidated Fund	$66,034,108
Expenditure on Consolidated Fund	51,707,172
Surplus	$14,326,935
Capital expenditure, including railway subsidies and bounty on metals	$10,357,163
Sinking fund	2,629,588
Decrease of net debt by operations of the year	6,580,360
Further decrease of net debt through the adjustment of provincial accounts	3,305,450
Total decrease of net debt for the year	9,885,811

Cheers from the government benches greeted the statement. Although the opposition papers generally are declaring themselves strongly and unreservedly for Mr. Chamberlain's program of colonial and British preferences, now that he is getting down to details, they are becoming a little uneasy. In one of his recent great speeches Mr. Chamberlain said that:

"He believed that the colonies are prepared to meet us in return for a very moderate preference. They would reserve to us the trade we already enjoy; would also arrange their tariffs in the future in order not to start in the future in competition with those already in existence in the mother country, and not only would they enable us to retain our trade with them, but they would give us preference on all trade done with them by our foreign competitors."

This aroused the interest of Mr. Monk, French leader of the opposition, who is in danger of being displaced from that position of honor by Mr. Tarte, as the special champion of Canadian high protection. He took occasion to ask the premier "If at the Colonial Conference or any other occasion the Canadian government has stated anything to the British government which would justify this statement of Mr. Chamberlain in regard to starting new industries in the future in this country, or in regard to the statement generally from the speech." Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied that he had read the summary of Mr. Chamberlain's speech, published in the Canadian newspapers, but he did not draw the same inference as Mr. Monk did from the words of Mr. Chamberlain. "He argued," said Sir Wilfrid, "that if the British public would give a preference to the colonies, it would be an appeal to the colonies to return a preference, not only in matters which had already been agreed to, but in what might be suggested. In regard to the statements made at the conference or elsewhere, they are all contained in the papers submitted by the Canadian ministers at the conference." October 10th, 1903.

MORINVILLE.

The Morinville Milling Co. are erecting an office and a coal shed.

N. Briette, contractor, is building a two story store for Gariepy & Leonard. The building will be 60x30 feet. John Laronde left this morning for Athabasca Landing with five loads of flour for the Hudson Bay Company.

Fred Beaudry left for the Landing with three loads of flour for Revillon Freres.

John Ecker and family will leave on Monday for Saskatchewan Valley, where there is a settlement of Germans.

The people of Morinville are very thankful for the good help they received from Edmonton business men in the collection they made to fix the government road from St. Albert and Morinville. If we take the word of our deputy, the minister of public works at Regina has promised to spend on this road this fall, two dollars for every one that the farmers will subscribe: so the writer of this note has on hand $150, which will be remitted to the proper authorities at any time for purposes aforesaid.

The farmers are through stacking and threshing has begun in some places.

The Morinville hotel had many guests from Edmonton this week. Most of them went to hunt ducks and prairie chicken at Little Egg Lake.

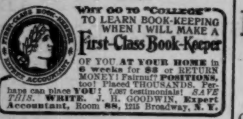

We have mail twice a week from St. Albert, on Tuesday and Saturday. Mr. Jos. Roy is the mail carrier.

Dr. Giroux is here regularly once a week, on Wednesday.

THE GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC

Medicine Hat News.

The Times characterizes the Grand Trunk Pacific as a "steal." It is stealing its way into the good opinion of the people of the whole of Canada, and of Western Canada in particular. As John Hawkes says, it is the real thing, not a shadow. Remove from the Grand Trunk Pacific proposition the criticisms brought forward as an outcome of politics, and it stands out as the greatest proposition which any government has put before the country in the past twenty years. The proposition has not suffered from the criticisms in the House of Commons or in the press of the country. The proposition is timely and is popular with the masses. Before offering condemnation to a scheme for the benefit of Canada, from no other standpoint than that of politics, the majority of Canadian people will look upon it from a business standpoint, the same as they would upon their own business transactions. When a man takes politics into his business he is taking a doubtful and flim-flam partner.

Will the Grand Trunk Pacific benefit Canada as a whole? Will the Grand Trunk Pacific benefit Western Canada? Have Western Canadian people been waiting for increased transportation for years? Will the Grand Trunk Pacific promote or retard the growth of Canada? Will the Grand Trunk Pacific broaden out Canada as a nation, and develop her resources and increase the opportunities of every Canadian? Will the Grand Trunk Pacific, opening up a new country, increase the population of Canada, and make increased markets for producers? Will the Grand Trunk Pacific tend to keep Canadians at home, and further stop the Canadian "Exodus"? Will the Grand Trunk Pacific benefit the ranching country? Will the Territories be better off having railway competition? Will four or five years of railway construction work, and the settlement which will follow it, and the increase in population, make more markets for horses, beef and mutton, oats, grain and flour? And you might ask a hundred other sensible questions.

If we look upon the proposition from a political standpoint, we rob it of its business or commercial aspect. The scheme was proposed by the Liberals. They claim it is all that is good. The scheme was not introduced by the Conservatives. They say it is no good. That's the political way of looking at it.

Let the average Westerner ask himself the questions we have put here, and the answers will be common-sense ones. The bill has passed the House of Commons, the Senate will not regard it as a "steal" and it will not be thrown out by the Senate, and if the government puts it before a higher tribunal—the will of the people of Canada—they will find that it will be overwhelmingly endorsed.

To characterize such a proposition as a "steal" in the face of the fact that it is the best railway bargain ever made by any Canadian government—no lands given away, no gifts of money, no over-capitalization, no control of rates, running rights to other roads, a road cut to Canada of $13,000,000, competition in the Western carrying trade is twaddle, and reveals a narrow view of a national undertaking. We have read dozens of criticisms of the proposal, in Eastern and Western papers, of both political persuasions, and never from the standpoint that it was a "steal." As we remarked at the outset, "steal" is the only "steal" that is in sight worthy of creating a flutter of agitation is the bright prospect of another "steal" baid across Canada, "steal"ing into the good opinions and better judgment of the great mass of Canadian people.

GARDENING AT VERMILION, PEACE RIVER

Farmer's Advocate.
A number of articles have been published in your valuable paper concerning the Peace River district, and as nothing has been mentioned about gardening, I will undertake to give an idea of what we raise in this distant and little-known country. Hotbeds are planted about the 15th of April. Tomatoes, pumpkins, cabbages and squash can be raised, while cabbages, cauliflowers, etc., are usually started in hotbeds and transplanted.

Gardening is generally done during the middle of May, some of the principal vegetables being carrots, cabbage, onions, cauliflower, beets, radishes, peas, beans, lettuce and a ripe. Cabbage and turnips grow to a fine large size. The largest turnip grown on the farm of Lawrence Bros. weighed twenty-three pounds and one half, while with very ordinary cultivation, cabbage often weigh up to 18 pounds; potatoes grow large and are very mealy; the first were dug on July 5th for the table this year. Potato bugs are unknown in this country. Quite a large variety of flowers are grown here; a few of them are sweet peas, morning glories, pansies, asters, marigolds, sweet William, poppies, candytuft and ice plant. Many of these bloom until late in the autumn, when the seed ripens, and they voluntarily grow the next year. Numerous flowers grow wild, such as daisies, violets and roses, also. The large number of other flowers. The first of them bloom soon after the snow leaves, often within a few feet of a snow drift.

Fruit has not been cultivated as yet here, but will be successful when started. Currants, gooseberries, red raspberries, dewberries, strawberries, cranberries, and the Saskatoon or sugar plum grow abundantly all over the country.

House plants do well and if care is taken, they can be kept from frost during the winter season.
In course of a few years, visitors will be charmed by the appearance of fine farms and gardens, fruit and flowers, shade trees and hedges. At the present we are merely pioneers—experimenters, who, while undertaking to make headway, are also demonstrating beyond a doubt, that as the garden is to the farm, so is the Peace River Valley to the world, and Vermilion to the Peace River Valley.

No Where Else

Do your dollars serve you so well in the jewelry line as here. Your own judgment will tell you this if you will come in and see our goods and get our prices. No old, shopworn goods. All straight from the factory, and more coming all the time. We have been striving for some time to win the public's confidence and it is no boast to say we are succeeding, for being manufacturers we can give better satisfaction at a smaller cost than you can get elsewhere. One trial will convince you. We make a specialty of plain rings, initial rings, diamond mounting to order, and difficult repairs, etc., of all kinds.
